FUTURE TALENT COUNCIL

FTC GLOBAL STUDENT FELLOWSHIP | JANUARY 2027 COHORT

APPLY BY Jan 15 2027

Prepare for and shape the future of work.

Join an elite international cohort of rising leaders to master emerging technologies, build durable human capabilities, and collaborate directly with global C-suites. This is not a traditional class or course – it is a virtual, 6-month launchpad designed to build future-ready competencies and put your voice at the center of the global workforce conversation.

REAL IMPACT FROM THE PREVIOUS COHORT

100%
Cognitive shift
of surveyed Fellows reported that our Critical AI Engagement program fundamentally transformed how they evaluate, audit, and use AI in their academic and professional work.

54
Global ecosystem reach
54 Fellows across 30 top universities and 16 countries have co-authored whitepapers and presented directly to C-suite executives, deans, and policy leaders.

C-suite
Direct executive access
Fellows gain direct masterclass exposure to global policy directors, labor market economists, and industry strategists.

> "The Fellowship created this safe, inspiring space where I could completely redefine how I see myself and my career goals. This has been the experience of a lifetime, and has left a lasting impact on me.

THE FELLOWSHIP EXPERIENCE

Program components built for real-world application

01
Small cross-cultural Fellowship teams
Collaborate in mixed international teams across time zones to tackle pressing workforce challenges.

02
Scenario Studios
Engage in strategic foresight sprints to map divergent futures, solve open-ended opportunity problems, and build decision-making confidence under uncertainty.

03
Critical AI Engagement (CAIE)
Complete six evidence-based modules that teach you to think independently before consulting AI, audit algorithmic bias, and avoid cognitive surrender.

04
Future Talent Insight Brief
Co-author a published 5–7 page whitepaper pairing global labor market data with qualitative C-suite interviews.

05
Global Capstone & Stockholm Summit
Present your team's findings virtually to Council executives, with an invitation to present research posters at the Future Talent Summit at the Grand Hôtel, Stockholm.

> "[The exercises] really had me reflecting on my use of AI, and how it affects my education, career, and future leadership.
