Future of Talent Gala Dinner
Sky Garden, 20 Fenchurch St, London

On the evening of June 18, Future Talent Council welcomes all attendees to the annual Future of Talent Gala Dinner. In the iconic "Walkie Talkie Building" we find London's highest public garden; Sky Garden. Throughout the evening we will discuss the increasingly sophisticated methods for measuring people's potential for success.

The digitally cognitive era is here. By incorporating AI, industry leaders are able to focus on their “people capital” as easily as their financial capital.

Amber Grewal
Chief People Officer
Intel

Future Talent Summit is a unique opportunity to bring together strategic visionaries across corporate, educational and governmental sectors. This group will begin to work towards partnerships which will mold the next generation of global workers.

Jeanine Dames
Director of Career Strategy
Yale University

Much is changing about how we work – from where we work and when, to how we collaborate with our increasingly smart machines. Bringing together academics, employers, and governments can help us connect the dots to prepare for this new world.

Ania G. Wieckowski
Executive Editor
Harvard Business Review
